Rise and fall articulated wall light. This utilitarian design is a versatile task light having both a rise and fall element and a directional brass shade. The long vertical rod is released by a thumb screw at the base and slides between two fixed brackets to lever the horizontal arm up and down. Cox London favour the honest polished steel and brass finish, left to age naturally, though other finishes are available on request.

W 120mm (4.72) x H 1670mm (65.75") x D 610mm (24") - projection

Only ever to be used with a low temperature LED spot bulb. Can be provided with wall light or details of bulb retailer provided upon request. The manual rise and fall mechanism on this light works best on a totally flat wall.
